Minnesota Rules: Amendments and Additions

NOTICE: How to Follow State Agency Rulemaking in the State Register

The State Register is the official source, and only complete listing, for all state agency rulemaking in its various stages. State agencies are required to publish notice of their rulemaking action in the State Register. Published every Monday, the State Register makes it easy to follow and participate in the important rulemaking process. Approximately 80 state agencies have the authority to issue rules. Each agency is assigned specific Minnesota Rule chapter numbers. Every odd-numbered year the Minnesota Rules are published. The current 1995 set is a 13-volume bound collection of all adopted rules in effect at the time. Supplements are published to update this set of rules. Generally speaking, proposed and adopted exempt rules do not appear in this set because of their short-term nature, but are published in the State Register.

An agency must first solicit Comments on Planned Rules or Comments on Planned Rule Amendments from the public on the subject matter of a possible rulemaking proposal under active consideration within the agency (Minnesota Statutes §§ 14.101). It does this by publishing a notice in the State Register at least 60 days before publication of a notice to adopt or a notice of hearing, or within 60 days of the effective date of any new statutory grant of required rulemaking.

When rules are first drafted, state agencies publish them as Proposed Rules, along with a notice of hearing, or a notice of intent to adopt rules without a hearing in the case of noncontroversial rules. This notice asks for comment on the rules as proposed. Proposed emergency rules and withdrawn proposed rules are also published in the State Register. After proposed rules have gone through the comment period, and have been rewritten into their final form, they again appear in the State Register as Adopted Rules. These final adopted rules are not printed in their entirety in the State Register, only the changes made since their publication as Proposed Rules. To see the full rule, as adopted and in effect, a person simply needs two issues of the State Register, the issue the rule appeared in as proposed, and later as adopted. For a more detailed description of the rulemaking process, see the most current edition of the Minnesota Guidebook to State Agency Services.

The State Register features partial and cumulative listings of rules in this section on the following schedule: issues #1-13 inclusive; issues #14-25 inclusive; issue #26 cumulative for issues #1-26; issues #27-38 inclusive; issue #39, cumulative for issues #1-39; issues #40-51 inclusive; and issues #1-52 (or 53 in some years), cumulative for issues #1-52 (or 53). An annual subject matter index for rules was separately printed usually in August, but starting with Volume 19 now appears in the final issue of each volume. For copies or subscriptions to the State Register, contact Minnesota's Bookstore, 117 University Avenue, St. Paul, MN 55155 (612) 297-3000, or toll-free 1-800-657-3757.

Proposed Rules

Comments on Planned Rules or Rule Amendments

An agency must first solicit Comments on Planned Rules or Comments on Planned Rule Amendments from the public on the subject matter of a possible rulemaking proposal under active consideration within the agency (Minnesota Statutes §§ 14.101). It does this by publishing a notice in the State Register at least 60 days before publication of a notice to adopt or a notice of hearing, and within 60 days of the effective date of any new statutory grant of required rulemaking.

Rules to be Adopted After a Hearing

After receiving comments and deciding to hold a public hearing on the rule, an agency drafts its rule. It then publishes its rules with a notice of hearing. All persons wishing to make a statement must register at the hearing. Anyone who wishes to submit written comments may do so at the hearing, or within five working days of the close of the hearing. Administrative law judges may, during the hearing, extend the period for receiving comments up to 20 calendar days. For five business days after the submission period the agency and interested persons may respond to any new information submitted during the written submission period and the record then is closed. The administrative law judge prepares a report within 30 days, stating findings of fact, conclusions and recommendations. After receiving the report, the agency decides whether to adopt, withdraw or modify the proposed rule based on consideration of the comments made during the rule hearing procedure and the report of the administrative law judge. The agency must wait five days after receiving the report before taking any action.

Rules to be Adopted Without a Hearing

Pursuant to Minnesota Statutes § 14.22, an agency may propose to adopt, amend, suspend or repeal rules without first holding a public hearing. An agency must first solicit Comments on Planned Rules or Comments on Planned Rule Amendments from the public. The agency then publishes a notice of intent to adopt rules without a public hearing, together with the proposed rules, in the State Register. If, during the 30-day comment period, 25 or more persons submit to the agency a written request for a hearing of the proposed rules, the agency must proceed under the provisions of §§ 14.14-14.20, which state that if an agency decides to hold a public hearing, it must publish a notice of intent in the State Register.

Board of Assessors

Proposed Permanent Rules Relating to Assessors; Licensure, Education, and Conduct

Notice of Intent to Adopt Rules Without a Public Hearing

Proposed Amendment to Rules Governing the Licensure, Education and Conduct of Assessors, Minnesota Rules, parts 1950.1050 and 1950.1060.

Introduction. The Minnesota State Board of Assessors intends to adopt rules without a public hearing following the procedures set forth in the Administrative Procedure Act, Minnesota Statutes, sections 14.22 to 14.28, and rules of the Office of Administrative Hearings, Minnesota Rules, parts 1400.2300 to 1400.2310. You have 30 days to submit written comments on the proposed rules and may also submit a written request that a hearing be held on the rules.

Agency Contact Person. Comments or questions on the rules and written requests for a public hearing on the rules must be submitted to the agency contact person. The agency contact person is: Gerald Garski, Board of Assessors, at Minnesota Department of Revenue, 10 River Park Plaza, Mail Station 3340, St. Paul, Minnesota 55145-3340, phone: (612) 296-0209, and fax: (612) 297-2166. Subject of Rules and Statutory Authority. The Minnesota State Board of Assessors wishes to update its rules. The proposed rules are about the licensing, education and conduct of Minnesota assessors. The proposed amendments to the rules are needed in order to 1) remove obsolete language, and 2) to make the rules conform to the current conditions prevalent in the field of assessment education. The statutory authority to adopt the rules is found in Minnesota Statutes, section 270.41 and section 270.47. A copy of the proposed rules is published in the State Register on Monday, November 4, 1996 and attached to this notice as mailed.

Comments. You have until 4:30 p.m. on Thursday, December 5, 1996, to submit written comment in support of or in opposition to the proposed rules and any part or subpart of the rules. Your comment must be in writing and received by the agency contact person by the due date. Comment is encouraged. Your comment should identify the portion of the proposed rules addressed and the reason for the comment. You are encouraged to propose any change desired. Any comments that you would like to make on the legality of the proposed rules must also be made during this comment period.

Request for a Hearing. In addition to submitting comments, you may also request that a hearing be held on the rules. Your request for a public hearing must be in writing and must be received by the agency contact person by 4:30 p.m. on December 5, 1996. Your written request for a public hearing must include your name and address. You must identify the portion of the proposed rules to which you object or state that you oppose the entire set of rules. Any request that does not comply with these requirements is not valid and cannot be counted by the agency for determining whether a public hearing must be held. You are also encouraged to state the reason for the request and any changes you want made to the proposed rules.

Withdrawal of Requests. If 25 or more persons submit a written request for a hearing, a public hearing will be held unless a sufficient number withdraw their requests in writing. If enough requests for hearing are withdrawn to reduce the number below 25, the agency must give written notice of this to all persons who requested a hearing, explain the actions the agency took to effect the withdrawal, and ask for written comments on this action. If a public hearing is required, the agency will follow the procedures in Minnesota Statutes, sections 14.131 to 14.20.

Alternative Format. Upon request, this Notice can be made available in an alternative format, such as large print, Braille, or cassette tape. To make such a request, please contact the agency contact person at the address or telephone number listed above.

Modifications. The proposed rules may be modified as a result of public comment. The modifications must be supported by comments and information submitted to the agency, and the adopted rules may not be substantially different than these proposed rules. If the proposed rules affect you in any way, you are encouraged to participate in the rulemaking process.

Statement of Need and Reasonableness. A statement of need and reasonableness is now available from the agency contact person. This statement contains a summary of the justification for the proposed rules, including a description of who will be affected by the proposed rules and an estimate of the probable cost of the proposed rules. Copies of the statement may be obtained at the cost of reproduction from the agency.

Adoption and Review of Rules. If no hearing is required, the agency may adopt the rules after the end of the comment period. The rules and supporting documents will then be submitted to the Office of Administrative Hearings for review for legality. You may ask to be notified of the date the rules are submitted to the office. If you want to be so notified, or want to receive a copy of the adopted rules, or want to register with the agency to receive notice of future rule proceedings, submit your request to the agency contact person listed above.

A. completing the requirements shown in subpart 2, items A, D, E, and F;

B. showing proof of having been awarded a bachelor's, master's, or doctor's degree from an accredited university or college; and

If an adopted rule is identical to its proposed form as previously published, a notice of adoption and a citation to its previous State Register publication will be printed.

If an adopted rule differs from its proposed form, language which has been deleted will be printed with strikeouts and new language will be underlined. The rule's previous State Register publication will be cited.

METROPOLITAN COUNCIL - LAWS OF 1994, CHAPTER 648. MEARS PARK CENTRE, 230 E. 5TH ST., ST. PAUL, MN 55101, (612) 291-6359.

Appointing Authority: Governor w/senate approval. Compensation: $20,000 annual salary. The Metropolitan Council coordinates planning and development in the seven county metropolitan area and directly operates several regional services. The council's work includes long-range planning for airports, highways, parks, sewers, housing, economic development and land use policy development. Passage of the 1994 Metropolitan Reorganization Act merged the Metropolitan Waste Control Commission, the Metropolitan Transit Commission, and the Regional Transit Board into the Metropolitan Council. This has resulted in the addition of responsibilities for operating transit and wastewater treatment services, as well as providing affordable technical assistance to local governments. The seventeen members include a chair who serves at-large and sixteen members who each represent a geographically defined council district. All members serve at the pleasure of the Governor. Members cannot hold elected public office and must reside within the council district they represent. The council is organized by committees, which make recommendations to the full board. The four standing committees are Transportation, Community Development, Environment and Finance. Council members each serve on at least two committees, attend semi-monthly council meetings and meet regularly with local government officials and members of the Minnesota Legislature. Beginning January 1, 1995, compensation for the council chair will be $52,500. Council members will be paid a fixed salary of $20,000 as opposed to the previous per-diem payment schedule. Members must file with the Ethical Practices Board. Council meetings are held the 2nd. & 4th. Thursdays except in December (1st. & 3rd. Thursdays) and on holidays at Mears Park Centre unless otherwise notified. The council does not expire.

MN SENTENCING GUIDELINES COMMISSION - MINNESOTA STATUTES 244.09. UNIV. NATIONAL BK. BLDG., 200 UNIVERSITY AVE. W., #205, ST. PAUL, MN 55103. (612) 296-0144.

Appointing Authority: Governor and Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. Compensation: $50 per diem (for citizen members) plus expenses. The legislature established the Sentencing Guidelines Commission for the purpose of developing and maintaining rational and consistent sentencing standards which reduce sentencing disparity, increase proportionality in sanctions, and ensure more equitable and uniform sentencing for convicted felons. The following are the specifically stated goals of the sentencing guidelines system: 1) To promote uniformity in sentencing so that offenders who are convicted of similar types of crimes and have similar types of criminal records are similarly sentencing; 2) To established proportionality in sentencing by recommending the most severe sanctions for those offenders who are convicted of serious violent offenses even with no criminal record, those who have repeat violent criminal records, and those who have more extensive nonviolent criminal records. 3) To provide truth and certainty in sentencing by having the judge pronounce a fixed sentence that requires the offender to serve at least two thirds of the pronounced time as opposed to an indeterminate and symbolic sentence of zero to the statutory maximum sentence and a parole board that ultimately decides when to release an offender; 4) To coordinate sentencing practices with correctional resources by informing the legislature of the impact of the existing sentencing policy on correctional resources and the impact of any proposed changes to the sentencing system; and 5) To promote public safety by recommending the harshest sanctions for violent offenders who pose the greatest danger to public safety and coordinating sentencing practices with correctional resources to assure that prison resources are available for these violent offenders. To achieve the mission and goals stated above, the agency and commission evaluate sentencing policy and practices, modifies sentencing policy; determines the impact of policy on correctional resources; and provides training, implementation, and information services to the criminal justice community and the public. The criminal justice system is extremely dynamic and the commission must consider whether to make changes to the sentencing guidelines in order to continue to fulfill its mission. The commission presents recommendations to the legislature each year for changes to the sentencing guidelines. The eleven members include one judge of the Court of Appeals and one district court judge to be appointed by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court; one public defender; one county attorney; one peace officer; one probation officer; three public members, one of whom must be a victim of a crime defined as a felony; and the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and the Commissioner of Corrections or their designees. The term of any member appointed or reappointed by the Governor after the first Monday in January 1991 is coterminous with the Governor. Members must file with the Ethical Practices Board. No set meeting schedule, but the meetings are usually the third Thursday of each month for 3 hours, and the meetings have been routinely held at the Dept. of Corrections, central office. The commission does not expire.

Revenue Notices

The Department of Revenue began issuing revenue notices in July of 1991. Revenue notices are statements of policy made by the department that provide interpretation, detail, or supplementary information concerning a particular statute, rule, or departmental practice. The authority to issue revenue notices is found in Minnesota Statutes §270.0604.

Revenue Notice #96-16: Corporate Franchise & Sales and Use Tax Nexus, In-State Repair Services by Computer Companies

The Multistate Tax Commission issued a nexus program bulletin (NB 95-1) on December 20, 1995 relating to the provision of in-state repair services by computer companies and how such services will create jurisdiction to tax computer companies.

This nexus program bulletin is consistent with the Minnesota Department of Revenue's position with regard to such activities occurring within the State of Minnesota. The majority of the Multistate Tax Commission's nexus bulletin follows:

Computer Company's Provision of in-State Repair Services Creates Nexus

This Bulletin describes the nexus consequences under the U.S. Constitution and Public Law 86-272 to a company selling computer and/or related items through direct marketing (hereafter sometimes called "computer company") where the computer company also provides, directly or indirectly, repair services to its customers in a taxing State. While this Bulletin focuses on the provision of repair services performed in the taxing State, other activities conducted by or on behalf of a computer company in a taxing State may also independently create constitutional or federal statutory nexus.

Industry Practice

Computer companies selling through direct marketing routinely provide repair services to their customers either on-site or through a business location in the customer's State under the computer company's warranty. A typical fact pattern is described below. This example is for illustrative purposes and should not be interpreted to exclude other instances involving similar, but not identical, fact patterns.

An out-of-state direct marketing computer company ("Computer Co.") solicits sales through advertising in computer magazines, catalogues, and fliers mailed into the taxing State. Computer Co.'s one year warranty provides for repair services in the customer's State. The Computer Co. proclaims to its customers and/or potential customers in the taxing State through advertisements and other means that its warranty covers provision of repair services in the customer's State. The warranty is either included with the purchase of every Computer Co. computer or computer related equipment or is available at an additional fee. Computer Co. sells a computer or related equipment to a customer and end user in the taxing State. When the customer discovers a problem, the terms of the warranty provide that the customer should contact Computer Co. to arrange repair service. The customer is not authorized to call the third party repair company to arrange for the repair without first calling Computer Co. for authorization. Customer calls Computer Co. which, after determining that the problem is covered by the warranty, may first attempt to solve the problem over the telephone. The Computer Co. determines whether repair is necessary and authorizes the in-state repair. Either Computer Co. or the customer, on Computer Co.'s authorization, contacts a third party service provider who performs the service in the taxing State either at the customer's location or at a site determined by the third party service provider.

Nexus Consequences

The industry practice of providing in-state warranty repair services through third party repair service providers, as described above, creates constitutional nexus for imposition of use tax collection responsibility for all sales made to customers in that State and for income, franchise, or comparable tax liability (including but not limited to a gross receipts excise tax) in the taxing State where the warranty services are performed. The repair services performed in the taxing State by the third party representative do not constitute de minimis activities in the taxing State. De minimis activity that does not rise to the level of constitutional nexus is activity that represents no more than a trivial connection with the State. Activities that are regular or systematic and in furtherance of the seller's business, such as the provision of in-state repairs under the company's warranty in this case, are not trivial.

Legal Analysis

1. Constitutional Standards for Use Tax Nexus

The limits of States' taxing authority under the Due Process and Commerce Clauses for imposition of use tax collection responsibility are set forth in Quill Corp. v. North Dakota, ___ U. S. ___, 112 S. Ct. 1904 (1992), and in National Bellas Hess Inc. v. Department of Revenue, 386 U.S. 753 (1967). In Quill, the Court held that the Due Process Clause does not require the in-state physical presence of an out-of-state seller for a State's jurisdiction to impose a use tax collection duty upon the out-of-state seller. Economic presence through purposeful solicitation of business within a State was sufficient. Quill, 112 S. Ct. at 1911. In overruling, in part, the holding in National Bellas Hess, the Court held that the Due Process concerns of "fairness" were satisfied where the out-of-state seller "purposefully avails itself of the benefits of an economic market in the forum State." Id. at 1910. The Court also reaffirmed the "bright line" safe harbor created in National Bellas Hess that contacts with a taxing State through U.S. mail or common carrier do not create "substantial nexus" under the Commerce Clause. The Court reaffirmed that in-state presence of, or attributable to, the out-of-state direct marketing seller through retail outlets, property, or personnel satisfies the Commerce Clause requirement. The Quill Court drew a bright line between those direct marketing sellers with no connection to the State other than through the U.S. mail or by common carrier and all other direct marketing sellers. Thus, to the extent that a computer company's activities in any State exceeds contacts by U.S. mail or common carrier, nexus may exist. Where a direct marketing company has in-state physical presence through property or personnel in the taxing State, substantial nexus clearly exists.

Under the Quill bright line test, repair service provided directly by a direct marketing computer company employee in the customer's State creates in-state physical presence that exceeds contact by U.S. mail or common carrier and constitutes "substantial nexus." Courts have also consistently ruled that out-of-state companies may not circumvent state jurisdiction to impose taxes by contracting with in-state persons to conduct company business that would have otherwise created nexus if the out-of-state company had used their own employees. The U.S. Supreme Court has uniformly found that the in-state presence of a representative of an out-of-state seller who conducts regular or systematic activities in furtherance of the seller's business, such as solicitation of sales or provision of services, creates nexus. Scripto, Inc. v. Carson, 362 U.S. 207 (1960); General Trading Co. v. Iowa, 322 U.S. 327 (1944); Felt & Tarrant Mfg. Co. v. Gallagher, 306 U.S. 62 (1939). See also Tyler Pipe Industries, Inc. v. Washington Dep't of Revenue, 483 U.S. 232 (1987); Standard Pressed Steel vs. Dep't of Revenue, 419 U.S. 560 (1975). The Court in Quill specifically approved this line of cases and recognized that these cases all involve physical presence that creates nexus under National Bellas Hess. Quill, 112 S.Ct. at 1910. Accordingly, presence of representatives of a direct marketing computer company providing repair services in the customer's State will generate constitutional nexus.

The characterization of the relationship between the out-of-state seller and its in-state representative conducting business on the out-of-state seller's behalf does not effect the nexus determination. Scripto, Inc. v. Carson, 362 U.S. 207 (1960). See also Tyler Pipe Inc. v. Washington Dep't of Revenue, 483 U.S. 232 (1987); Standard Pressed Steel v. Dep't of Revenue, 419 U.S. 560 (1975). In Scripto, the Court held that in-state activities on Scripto's behalf by ten part-time independent contractors created nexus, even though these independent contractors worked for competing companies. The Court held that the distinction between employees and independent contractors was of no constitutional significance. As the Supreme Court in Scripto noted, the important fact is that the in-state activity is effective in creating and maintaining the in-state market. Scripto, 362 U.S. at 211-212. Similarly, in Tyler Pipe Industries, Inc. v. Washington Dep't of Revenue, 483 U.S. 232 (1987), the activities of one independent contractor residing in the taxing State were sufficient to create a taxable presence in the State on behalf of the company to impose Washington's Business and Occupations tax. In Tyler Pipe, the Court held that the critical test was whether the activities performed in this state on behalf of the taxpayer are significantly associated with the taxpayer's ability to establish and maintain a market in this state for the sales.

Tyler Pipe, 483 U.S. at 250. The Court found this standard was satisfied because "Tyler's sales representatives perform any local activities necessary for maintenance of Tyler Pipe's market and protection of its interests." Id. at 251. The important aspect of both decisions is that the Court, without weighing the amount of the in-state activities, noted that in-state activities carried on through an in-state representative associated with the seller's ability to establish and maintain a market in the taxing State satisfies constitutional nexus requirements. Tyler Pipe, 483 U.S. at 250; Standard Pressed Steel, 419 U.S. at 562. In-state representation can take many forms, such as representation by individuals, corporations, partnerships, or other entities. The different forms of the relationship have no constitutional significance. Hence, an out-of-state company may not circumvent the imposition of nexus in a State where a representative third party company, rather than an in-state individual representative, conducts in-state activities on its behalf. It is the performance of the in-state activities by an in-state entity on the seller's behalf that extends those nexus creating activities and in-state presence to the out-of-state seller.

The provision of warranty repair service in the customer's state is precisely the kind of presence that squarely supports the finding of substantial nexus. The provision of in-state repair services provided by a direct marketing computer company as part of the company's standard warranty or as an option that can be separately purchased and as an advertised part of the company's sales contributes significantly to the company's ability to establish and maintain its market for computer hardware sales in the State. As in Tyler Pipe, these in-state activities, which develop goodwill and increased market share, are no less important or beneficial to the out-of-state direct marketing computer company because they are performed by an independent third party repair service.

2. Standards for Income and Franchise Tax Nexus Under the Constitution and P.L. 86-272

There is a question of whether the substantial nexus standard for imposition of use tax collection as preserved in Quill or a lower nexus standard applies to income taxes, franchise taxes based upon income, and other comparable taxes. Regardless of the merits of these two positions, there is no question that when a company has sufficient contact with the State to support the constitutional imposition of a use tax collection and reporting obligation with respect to the State into which the company is selling, nexus exists for the application of an income, franchise, or comparable tax as well. The discussion of use tax nexus in the previous section supports the conclusion that constitutional nexus under the Commerce Clause and the Due Process Clause exists with respect to the market State's imposition of a reporting obligation under an income, franchise, or comparable tax.

A State's jurisdiction to impose taxes based on net income is further limited by Public Law 86-272, codified at 15 U.S.C. § 381 et. seq. (1988) ("P.L. 86-272"). P.L. 86-272 provides that a State may not impose a net income based tax on an out-of-state company if the company does no more than solicit orders for sales of tangible personal property. The protection extends to solicitation by either employees or independent contractors. However, if the independent contractor engages in activities on behalf of the company that exceed solicitation and sales and such activities are not ancillary to the solicitation of sales, the company is no longer protected.

The provision of warranty repair of computers and computer related equipment exceeds solicitation and is not a protected ancillary activity. Accordingly, P.L. 86-272 does not protect the out-of-state direct marketing computer company's repair activities in the taxing State.

3. De Minimis Activities

In Wisconsin Dep't of Revenue v. William Wrigley, Jr., Co., ___ U.S. ___, 112 S.Ct. 2447 (1992), the Supreme Court found that the de minimis concept is especially important when a rule operates in a "stark all-or-nothing fashion", such as P. L. 86-272. Wrigley, at 2458. The "bright line" nexus rule affirmed by the Court in Quill also operates in an all-or-nothing fashion. Accordingly, recognition of a de minimis exception is appropriate for use tax collection as well as income tax liability even though the bright line is not statutory as is P. L. 86-272. De minimis activities are those that, when taken together, establish only a trivial connection with the taxing State. Id. at 2458. An activity conducted within a taxing State on a regular or systematic basis or pursuant to a company policy (whether such policy is written or not) is not considered trivial. Id. at 2459 n. 8. Whether or not an activity consists of a trivial or non-trivial connection with the taxing State is to be measured on both a qualitative and quantitative basis. If the disqualifying activity either quantitatively or qualitatively creates a non-trivial connection with the taxing State, then the de minimis exception to constitutional or statutory nexus is not applicable. Establishing that the disqualifying activities only account for a relatively small part of the business conducted within the taxing State is not determinative of whether a de minimis level of activity exists. Because the provision of warranty repairs in the customer's state is a regular and systematic business activity directed to the establishment and maintenance of the in-state market, this activity cannot be considered de minimis.

Application of the Law to the Direct Marketing Computer Industry Practice

There is no issue of Due Process nexus because direct marketing computer companies purposefully direct advertising and catalogue solicitations to taxing State customers. Under applicable case law, in-state presence of independent contractors creates substantial nexus under the Commerce Clause for out-of-state companies that hire them to perform in-state services. Accordingly, the industry practice of direct marketing computer companies arranging for provision of in-state repair service through third parties creates nexus. The fact that the in-state warranty service is actually performed by a third party is of no constitutional consequence. In any event, the out-of-state direct marketing computer company authorizes the in-state warranty repair service provider to perform the necessary repairs on its behalf. The third party service provider merely serves as an extension of the out-of-state direct marketing computer company. Thus, the in-state repair activities benefit the direct marketing computer company and aid in the establishment and maintenance of the in-state market. Indeed, from the end user's point of view, the out-of-state direct marketing computer company is his or her primary contact and the entity that the end user must rely on to obtain repairs under the warranty agreement. Provision of in-state repair service has become more or less a standard practice in the direct marketing computer industry and in many cases is advertised by the direct marketing computer company itself. Provision of in-state warranty repairs is thus tacitly recognized as a necessity to maintain market share in the competitive direct marketing computer industry. The warranty repair activity is a regular, systematic activity undertaken under direct marketing computer company's written warranty. Accordingly, the in-state repair activity does not constitute a de minimis activity regardless of the number of times warranty services are actually provided in the customer's state or the amount of time spent in the state to make repairs covered by the warranty agreement.

The following States have indicated that their law is consistent with the constitutional and federal statutory nexus principles described in this Bulletin and that they will enforce these nexus standards with respect to computer companies selling computers and/or related items through direct marketing for purposes of determining, as indicated by parenthetical notation, an obligation to collect, report and remit use taxes on the sale and purchase of a computer and/or related items and/or an obligation to report and pay income taxes, franchise taxes based on income, or comparable taxes: Alabama. . . Minnesota (use tax, net income tax, net income based franchise tax); . . .

Taxpayers who believe they may have tax compliance issues are encouraged to contact the appropriate State taxing authority.

Exhibit A

Description of the Minnesota Arbor Fair Coordinator Position

The coordinator will oversee the development and running of the 1997 Minnesota Arbor Fair under the direct leadership of the Department of Natural Resources, Division of Forestry Metro Region Public Affairs Team. The Arbor Fair is scheduled for April 25, 1997, at the Minnesota State Capitol Mall. The one-day event offers forestry-related learning stations, exhibits, and demonstrations. It's aimed at school children, grades 3-6, who it is hoped will learn more about forestry and how forestry fits under the environmental umbrella through attending this event.

Responsibilities

1. Program: Responsibilities include developing environmental learning stations that provide hands-on activities for children including obtaining curriculum and support materials; arranging to have the learning stations appropriately staffed; distributing mailings to schools in the seven-county metro area, informing them of the fair event and how to register; handling registration; working with an organizer to schedule registered schools to the different environmental learning stations throughout their day at the fair; developing an evaluation form and ways to tabulate results.
Support: Committee members, secretarial assistance, mailing services (can include assembling and stuffing of items to be mailed if necessary), hiring of a person to work with school scheduling.
2. Facilities/Exhibits: Responsibilities include arranging with the facility host (the Minnesota State Capitol Mall) to supply everything the Arbor Fair organizers need in the way of space, buildings, electricity, and parking; ordering materials not supplied by the facility host like chairs, tables, and tents for additional learning stations; soliciting potential exhibitors who might be interested in displaying at the Arbor Fair and distributing registration materials to them; assigning space to confirmed exhibitors.
Support: Committee members, secretarial assistance, and mailing services.
3. Publicity: Responsibilities include sparking media interest through personal contacts, press releases, public service announcements, and articles in newspapers, magazines, and corporate newsletters; targeting audiences as identified by committees including state legislature and constitutional officers; developing materials like press packets and program highlights and distributing them at the event to attending media;
Support: Committee members, secretarial assistance, and mailing services.
4. Finances: Responsibilities include developing a project budget to be approved by the committee, overseeing project expenditures, procuring services as necessary; submitting bills to the committee and preparing periodic budget reports.

5. Ambassadors: Responsibilities include selecting volunteers to help move crowds during the Arbor Fair, identifying where volunteer help is needed, scheduling volunteer work shifts, training volunteer workers, and finding a way to make ambassadors visible in a crowd.

At the 1992 Minnesota Forestry Fair, over 50 people volunteered to be ambassadors. These ambassadors greeted buses and directed school groups to the lunch storage area and to their first activity, showed bus drivers the parking and pick-up area, directed traffic, stored school lunches, staffed information booths, and organized groups at each learning station to make sure that scheduled visitors were in the right place at the right time.

Support: Committee members, secretarial assistance, and mailing services.
6. Wrap-up (after the event): Responsibilities include cleaning up the facilities, preparing a final report that includes all project files, sample documents and correspondence, and distributing appropriate thank you notes.
Support: Committee members, secretarial assistance, and mailing services.
